1st District, Edenton, Aug. 12.

The CHRONICLE desires to furnish a correct list of all Conventions to be held in the State, and will thank its friends to help us.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION.

The CHRONICLE is a great believer in whatever things are honest and whatsoever things are just. We believe that the harmony of the Democratic party depends upon the exercise of that spirit of justice to minorities that does not strangle their rights. Minority representation everywhere, from the ward and precinct up to the State Convention, is a right which ought not to be denied anywhere or to anybody. To deny it is not in keeping with the spirit of Democracy, and it engenders bitterness and hard-feelings which threaten the success of the party at the polls. It is too much to ask a man whose rights have been throttled to be an enthusiastic supporter of candidates in whose interest his rights have been taken away from him by the power of night.
To be sure a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat of the State CHRONICLE stripe would not be driven from earnest party support by reason of injustice practised by individuals, but it has made many good men lukewarm, and has wrought great damage to the party.This month conventions will be held in most of the townships and counties of the State to nominate candidates. It matters very little who those candidates are, provided they are good men and sterling Democrats. But it is a very important matter whether they are elected or not. Success can only be secured by party harmony. Party harmony can only be insured by giving to every difference of opinion and every preference in the party, the right of representation. Strong candidates will not be injured if minority representation is everywhere allowed, and weak candidates ought not to be nominated anywhere.Minority representation is more than a mere policy to secure party harmony.
As such it is to be advocated. But it is more than that: It is an eternal principle of right and justice, and ought never to be denied in any Democratic Convention from the ward meeting to the State Convention. It is wrong always—wrong only—and wrong continually, and there is no defense that can be made for it except in the old saying:"Let him take who has the power, And let him keep who can."The MATTHEW STANLEY QUAY Club, of Philadelphia, has passed resolutions against the Force bill, and knowing ones say that QUAY is disposed to fight it.
TELLER and PLUMB have declared in open Senate that they will oppose any change in the rules, and the rabid Republicans, who, sooner than see the Federal Election bill fail to pass the Senate, would prefer "to see every manufacturing establishment burned to ashes, and the people required to labor in callings in which they could not make more than fifty cents a day, and be required to live on codfish." HARRISON declares the bill shall pass, and it will need more Republicans than TELLER and PLUMB to prevent its passage. We hope that they will be found.

A REPUBLICAN GROWL.

A new Republican paper—the Independent Progressive American—has made its appearance in Wilmington. It is a weekly paper "devoted to the progress of the negro and the cultivation of amicable relations between the races." It is to have Geo. W. Price, Jr., as managing editor, and is likely to raise something of a disturbance in Republican circles. The following editorial in its first issue is not calculated to "the cultivation of amicable relations in the ranks of the Republican party."We see that the Executive Committee of the Republican State organization has ordered a convention to be held on the 28th of August to nominate officers.We fail to understand the subject of said convention, as we had supposed that all the white Republicans were safely housed in offices. It cannot be that any hope is entertained that any of the offices to be filled by the next election, nor can it be hoped that that party can secure a majority in the Legislature. Is it a repetition of the old game of using the negroes as "cat's paws" to draw polluted chestnuts for the benefit of white Republicans? Do they intend to whip up the "Savages" in order to give prominence to some white Republican aspirant for office?Evidently they have no hope of success in the coming election, for the last hopes of the party were blasted by the edict of D. L. Russell two years ago, when he repudiated the efforts of the party and declared that "the negroes of the South are largely savages, and no more fit to govern than their brethren in African swamps or so many Mongolians dumped down from Pagan Asia."Since then 70,000 of Russell's so-called savages have emigrated to the Southwest. What therefore can be his object in ordering a ticket in the field?
If the convention which is called to meet in Raleigh on the 28th of August is composed of true representative negroes, who dare demand a proper recognition of rights as we sincerely hope and trust it will be, they will save the subsequent meeting much unnecessary trouble and trouble.

SOUTHERN FARMING.

We publish a thoughtful article in another column of to-day's CHRONICLE upon Southern Farming from the pen of Rev. JOHN A. HENDRICKS. He has visited Wake county and observed the methods of farming practised here, and gives his views with great candor and in an interesting way. He is himself a veteran stock-raiser and writes from the standpoint of a practical agriculturist.As an additional argument in favor of a diversification of crops in the South, we copy the following article in the last issue of the National Economist from the pen of J. R. DOBBS, statistician of the Agricultural Department. He is writing against the old practice of planting cotton and nothing else, and says:With pork made by the aid of cow peas cheaper than in the West, with beef at 24 cents per pound (I have bought it in Mississippi for that), with grass defying all efforts to kill it, what folly it is to buy pork, beef, flour, hay, or any other agricultural product in the West? It is equal folly to buy sugar from Cuba, when Florida and the Gulf Coast have sugar land enough to produce every pound needed in the United States. I would utilize the minor fibres, which should soon be worth as much as cotton, creating new wants and making new markets, foreign and domestic. I would create a silk industry for further enrichment of the South. Scores of new products useful in the myriad manufacture sure to arise to consume the metals, the coals and the surface woods, should be sources of wealth in the near future.
This utilization of the gifts of nature in the South is sure to come, and no folly of ignorance, inertia, prejudice, or conservatism can prevent it.

DOES THE TAIL WAG THE DOG?

Republicans who favor the passage of the Force bill declare that the Senate will be forced to pass the bill, and that Reed and Harrison hold the whip and will do the driving. TELLER and PLUMB have already kicked out of harness, and declared that Senators cannot be driven by such little fellows. In old times the Senate was a body of able men who would allow no dictation. The result of the Force bill will indicate whether it will allow REED, who is the House, to control its action.DANIEL WEBSTER, in his celebrated speech in reply to HAYNE, thus spoke of the Senate:"This is a Senate, a Senate of equals, of men of equal and personal character, and of absolute independence. We know no masters; we acknowledge no dictators. This is a hall for mutual consultation and discussion, not an arena for the exhibition of champions."Is it so to-day? Or does the tail wag the dog?

A POINTER.

You [Republicans] increased pensions until the pay-roll of our ex-soldiers exceeds now the expenses of many of the vast standing armies of Europe, and next year will surpass the greatest, as the following list will show:Cost of European Armies, 1888.
Austria Hungary.....$ 49,116,248 France.....121,061,099
Germany.....105,614,065 Great Britain.....90,291,730 Italy.....41,985,611
Russia.....125,508,474
United States pensions, 1890.....117,000,000 —SENATOR VANCE.The Baltimore Sun quotes a part of the letter written by LEONIDAS J. MOORE, Esq., of New Bern announcing his abandonment of the Republican party, and adds:"The attempt to force the election bill through Congress threatens to disrupt the Republican party in the South.
Already the leading Republicans of Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia have formally protested against the passage of the bill as a vicious piece of legislation, and many who have served the Republican party faithfully have already announced their withdrawal from that party."A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—U. S.
